Moro Chief Wanted For Murdering American Soldiers.

Washington, Sept. 24.-Careful examination of the official reports made to the war department by the commanding general of the division of the Philfrpines, covering a period from last February down to the middle of August, fail to disclose any account of an en-gagement of importance between the American troops and the Moros, with the single exception of an affair that occurred on the island of Cagayen about six weeks ago. Reference was made to this affair in the press reports at the

This engagement, in which twenty-six Moros were killed, had the effect of establishing peace on Cagayen island and the recognition of civil government. It is reported that a force of soldiers is continually on the lookout for and in pursuit of Datio Ali. ### Watching the Railroads.

It is remarkable to a stranger in the city the importance that is attached by merchants and real estate dealers in particular, and citizens generally, to the prospect of new railroad connections for Salt Lake in the near future. The talk of the Western Pacific to connect the city directly with San Fran-cisco; the rapid closing of the last short gap in the San Pedro, and th' promise of an opening of that line through to Los Angeles before the end of the year; the rapid approach of the Moffat line—all these are having a marked influence in adding snap to the local business tone. Added to these is the electric line to connect this city with Bligham; the agitation for the inter-urban to run through Salt Lake on a line from Logan to Payson, and P. Another factor that is making itself felt in the local business world is the public work being done by the city. The new pavements, sidewalks and sewers are giving employment to a large number of men, enabling them to buy liberally at the stores and making their influence felt in the general busi-ness of the city. The extra work being done by the railroads is felt in the same way by the merchants.

STREVELL-PATERSON BRANCH OUT MIGHTILY.

When the present plans are carried out in their entirety the Strevell-Paterson Hardware company will have the biggest wholesale hardware establishment between Chicago and San Francisco. This is the statement of Charles N. Strevell, the president of the company, who is thoroughly familiar with all the large establishments in that line in the west.

The large building occupied up to this time by the B. & O. Transfer company, fronting on West Temple, has been leased for twenty years by the hardware people. The B. & O.

has been leased for twenty years by the hardware people. The B. & O. company is now moving out as fast as it can to make way for the new tenants, and as fast as an army of men can do the work the place is being put in perfect order for the hardware firm. The remodeling of this portion of the building will cost $13,500. It will give the firm 58,000 feet of floor space and will give them an ideal place and will give them an ideal place for their business.

The main business front will be on West Temple street. This will be re-modelled after a beautiful design that will include plate glass windows across the entire front of fifty-seven feet. Here will be the office twenty feet deep and fifty-seven feet wide, finished in ivory and gold and furnished in the best possible style including a two-story vault for the fine cutlery. silverware and valuable papers. Oversilverware and valuable papers. Overhead will be a skylight seventy-two feet long and twenty feet wide, and running back to the rear of the building a distance of 185 feet will be a main corridor ten feet wide. Opening off this will be the stock rooms, 8x6 and ten feet high with samples as these ten feet high with samples on the

Under the entire establishment there is a basement where goods are stored and overhead in the second story lighter goods are kept. All the goods are arranged in such systematic order that packers could get any desired piece of hardware in the dark by consulting his schedule.

The opening on First South will be used for the shipping in and out of goods. It will be so arranged that the wagons may be driven into the building and unloaded in the shelter. In the rear of the building is a twenty foot alley to be used for shipping purposes and in addition to the store room here there is a warehouse on the rail-road tracks and another on the farm
